BIOGRAPHY

After migrating from Jamaica at an early age, Davaki knew that music was going to be his passion. From Djing at parties, to performing on stage, Davaki's passion for music kept growing. His first group "Terminata" would go on to winning local competitions, one which landed them their first recording deal and performance at one of Canada's largest festivals "The Toronto Jamaica Day Festival".

With lots of radio play and performances under his belt, Davaki decided that if music was going to be his life then getting industry standard qualifications would be a must. So, he enrolled and graduated from the "Harris Institution for Sound Engineering". Being academically smart in music is great, but knowing how the real music world works is even greater, so whilst studying, Davaki started working at Canada's largest music store "Lone and McQuade".

There he executed his skills by assisting customers in their musical and rental needs. Davaki soon mastered the setup and adjustments of many musical equipment's and recording gear. Davaki soon became the "Go to Guy", for all musical questions and advice. This wealth of knowledge soon led to Davaki becoming the sound engineer for one of Canada's greatest Hip Hop artistes "Kardinal Official". Davaki would work alongside great international artistes such as, Lauren Hill, Bare Naked Ladies, Rick Ross, Akon, Shawn Desmond, Popcaan, Macheal Montano, Beenie Man and more.

In true fashion of always reaching to the top, Davaki is now stepping out from behind the mixing board and returning to his true passion, of performing on stage. With the first of many songs recorded, Davaki has formed a great team of established music heads, to manage this new musical journey.
